

CALLING ALL WOMEN & FEMALE GRADUATES IN THE FILM INDUSTRY

Moses Kotane Institute (MKI) in collaboration with the KwaZulu-Natal Film Commission, are conducting a research study to determine the drivers of low participation of female graduates in the KZN film industry. The objectives of the study are to:

- (1) critically examine current scholarly literature on the participation of women in the film industry post-tertiary,
- (2) to identify challenges and barriers faced by female graduates in the KZN film industry,
- (3) to propose and recommend measures to improve the participation of females in the film industry.

Please click on the following link to participate in this study <https://forms.office.com/r/2S4f2S9d6J>

The findings of this study will enable industry players to develop interventions and strategies that will promote the participation of females in the film industry. Moreover, by participating in this study, you will enable the provincial government and Film commission to develop initiatives to grow the film industry in the province. We, therefore, request your assistance in circulating and sharing the link with your students/graduates and other relevant stakeholders.

Thanking you in advance for your participation
